I have interpreted my Tarots for LOVE

First Card.....The Chariot (upside-down)
Second Card.....The Sun
Third Card..... Judgment

Your present condition.....

You are behaving in the wrong way. It is not time for you to loaf about, just waiting for someone to come up and take you with her/himself.

My suggestion.....

The point is you have to start from the idea that what you are going to do can be either a success or a failure. Therefore, keep a little distance from the situation and take it into consideration that in every event of life -including love- destiny plays an important role. Be psychologically ready to ace a failure. From the ashes a change might originate, which could be very important for you.

Possible result could be.....

Positive (love happiness, sexual satisfaction), provided you can make use of your charm in the most suitable way. Happy journeys together are to be expected.

IT IS GOING TO BE A HAPPY LOVE-AFFAIR!

Let me disclose your future for.....
